To

Kelly Miller

Dean of College of Arts and Sciences, Master of Arts,
Doctor of Law, Professor of Mathematics, and Sociology,

Howard University,

this first volume of the
"RIKH" is dedicated as a tribute of appreciation and respect.

DEAN KELLY MILLER.

KELLY MILLER, scholar, author, inspirer and teacher of youth. An untiring investigator in Sociology, a persistent student in Mathematics, and an outstanding promoter of racial betterment; his books, numerous pamphlets and magazine articles have influenced modern thought of the American people.

¶ For years a faithful and energetic member of the faculty of his Alma Mater, he has impressed upon succeeding generations of Howard men a love of scholarship and appreciation of the highest in all fields of endeavor.

¶ His interest has centered in humanity. He has won for himself a place in the hearts of his countrymen.

STEPHEN M. NEWMAN, A. M., D. D.

HISTORY OF '14

IN the fall of 1910, our class was enrolled as Freshmen in the College of Arts and Sciences of Howard University. We were especially noted for our large numbers on account of which we were referred to very frequently as the "invincible Freshmen class of 1911." Although many of our numbers have fallen by the wayside yet we are able to boast of our numbers; for few senior classes are as large. We do not, however, stand on numbers alone, for there are many in our class of whom we feel proud on account of their achievements in Athletics, music, poetry and scholarship.

As we look back upon the four years spent in college and realize the development and inspiration we have received from the different pursuits and activities in which we have engaged, we feel a deep sense of gratitude to our Alma Mater and we realize that we owe much to dear old Howard.

And now that we are leaving her, to cast our lot in the wide world, may we, feeling our deficiencies in many ways, always keep in front of us her high ideals and remember to "wind up the heights."

HISTORY OF '15

THE CLASS OF 1915 came to the University September 24, 1911. As is the case with all Freshmen, the class had a stormy term. Many battles were waged on every available spot of ground on the Campus. They even occurred in the Chapel. Because of the fight in the Chapel, several of our noble sons as well as several of the "Sophs" were suspended for a few weeks, but they returned only more eager to forward the cause. This determination was shown at the time of the Sophomore Banquet when several of the Sophs were kidnapped and never reached the festive board.

The Class of '15 passed a successful Sophomore year. The flag fight was to be a feature of the contest with the Freshmen, but because of unjudicious arrangements of the Upper Classmen, the fight never came off. The year passed uneventfully except for a few disturbances until the separation of the College of Arts and Sciences from the Teachers' College occurred. To some it was a happy occasion, to others it was a sad one.

Class '15 entered the Council of Upper Classmen after having given a most successful banquet which the Freshmen in vain tried to hold up by taking away the President.

The Junior year was entered with all of the dignity of Upper Classmen. Many have been the achievements and much more do we expect to do before leaving "Old Howard."

INTERIOR OF LIBRARY.

If the present status of this class, both mental and physical, is compared with that of our first entrance upon the Campus, no one will entertain the slightest doubt about Darwin's theory of evolution. But there existed in this class possibility, that redeeming feature, which could have been noted by the most casual observer, and which later those "ginks" of '15 were compelled to admit with reluctance.

After the cold reception which characterized the first few days of our existence upon the Hill, the class labored in the effecting of its organization until that memorable day of the class rush. On that day our appearance alone inspired terror within the ranks of '15, the overgrowns, who, scarcely with any sign of combat, desisted from the contest. In the football game they made their last stand, they fought well, but alas, indeed it is pathetic, they were overwhelmed and completely swamped. Besides these physical demonstrations of prowess, while yet Freshmen, there were demonstrations in which mental prowess was of greater importance.

With the cool winds of Autumn, 1913, there came the late September insignificants, '17, whom traditionally we loved, but we as superiors were determined to make them recognize our superiority. In the class rush and football game the poor "boobs" were hopelessly overwhelmed. We did not want to seem arrogant or even cruel in our administration to these "nurselings," but it is really unfortunate that the careless governesses did not accompany their indiscreet charges.

As far as the rendition of programs and the success of our banquet are concerned, the class really surpassed its brilliant record gained as Freshmen. In these various functions, Tenmyson, Webster, Kubelik, Paderewski, and all of the other glorious ones who illuminate the pages of history were forced in the background.

We do not wish to seem boastful in speaking of our class, in fact we are not, but in recording the deeds of a class, which has never tasted the cup of defeat, the language may unavoidably, or unconsciously, entail some characteristics which might lead some to think that we are boastful. Indeed we have accomplished such an enviable record, that it has lead some distinguished personages, for instance, Dean Miller, to say, "the Sophomores are known to do the impossible." He may be a little lavish in his statement, but it is the concensus of opinion that no greater class has ever existed within the annals of the university.

HISTORY OF '17

THE history of the Freshman class, though short in extent, has been one of onward strides, one of struggle and victory. It is not for the moment claimed that errors and bad plays have not been committed in the game of progress, yet these misfortunes have been but the hard teachers of experience, pointing out the best roads for travel in the clear distance of future activity. The history of the class, therefore, is the history of those who have paid the cost of victory and suffered the pain of defeat.

It is true that the class organization was effected only after much trouble, but when instituted it became a machine of service, each member being an inseparable part of its vehicle. With such an organization as this and with Mr. N. O. Goodlee as president, the class started its history.

Immediately the ability of the class began to express itself in every phase of college life. In athletics, in dramatics and in public speaking contests, the Freshmen played a creditable part. This does not necessarily mean, however, that they were the stars of all occasions, but it only points out that there is a spirit of willingness on the part of the class to develop its latent talents and to become an organization unsurpassed in attainments. It is then not so much the things accomplished, but rather the spirit in which the class has attempted to take part in college affairs, that bids fair to make its history even more marked.

This casual history, then, only gives a view of a class yet in its embryonic stage, nourishing upon the best things in the garden of learning and hoping some day to bloom into a flower of beauty and worth, a flower to make others happy and prosperous by its fragrance of love—love that resolves into service—service to friend and foe, State and God.

GENERAL O. O. HOWARD.

IN MEMORY OF
GEN. OLIVER OTIS HOWARD

---

If of dear Howard I should write,
Howard so rich in fame,
I'd dip my pen in the sun's own light,
And write one glorious name.

I'd write the name of a soldier true,
And statesman pure and tried;
No nobler son e'er wore the blue,
Or fought on victory's side.

A soldier, too, of the real cross,
In faith and word and deed,
And earthly gain he counted dross
To reap eternal meed.

He felt no shame to be the friend
Of hapless sons of toil;
He spent his life to help them rend
The hold of slavery's coil.

He was above the lust of gold,
And raised from sordid sod,
The view of freedmen to behold
The nobler things of God.

He built far wiser than he knew
Fair Howard, rich in fame,
And richer far, old White and Blue,
Is thine own precious name.

When ripe in years he went to meet
His reward in the land afar,
Our God Himself came forth to greet
Him as he crossed the bar.

The Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity

THE BETA CHAPTER of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity is a chapter of an inter-collegiate Greek letter fraternity founded at Cornell University in 1906. From one chapter with a membership of less than ten, it has grown in a period of six years into a nationally chartered organization, having sixteen chapters with a membership exceeding five hundred.

The chapters are located as follows:

CHAPTERS	LOCATION
Alpha.....	Cornell University
Beta.....	Howard University
Gamma.....	Virginia Union University
Delta.....	University of Toronto
Epsilon.....	University of Michigan
Zeta.....	Yale University
Theta.....	Northwestern Chicago Illinois Universities
Eta.....	Columbia University

Kappa.....	Ohio State University
Mu.....	University of Minnesota
Nu.....	Lincoln University
Xi.....	Wilberforce University
Omicron.....	University of Pittsburgh
Alpha Lambda (graduate).....	Louisville, Kentucky
Alpha Alumni.....	New York City

The Fraternity has held six successful annual conventions, and the seventh is to be held at the seat of Theta Chapter, December 29, 30, and 31, 1914.

THE CONVENTIONS:

First Annual—1908.....	Washington, D. C.
Second Annual—1909.....	New York City
Third Annual—1910.....	Philadelphia, Pa.
Fourth Annual—1911.....	Ann Arbor, Mich.
Fifth Annual—1912.....	Columbus, Ohio
Sixth Annual—1913.....	Washington, D. C.

Beta Chapter was established December 20, 1907, being the first Greek letter fraternity to be established at Howard, and the influence wielded by this fraternity has paved the way for the five fraternities now at Howard. From a membership of eighteen, Beta has grown to a total membership of 113. They are classified as follows:

Active, 40; Alumni, 53; Honorary, 10; Non-Resident, 8; Deceased, 2.

The Chapter has a comfortable "Fraternity Home," adjoining the university campus, with a well-equipped dining department, spacious grounds and tennis courts.

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity

THE OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY, the second oldest fraternity in Howard University and the first Greek-lettered fraternity organized in a Negro institution, was founded on the 17th of November, 1911, by Messrs. Oscar J. Cooper, Edgar A. Love, and Frank Coleman, in company with Prof. E. E. Just. It was the aim of the founders to establish a fraternity in which a larger number of men could share the fruits of fraternity life than had hitherto been able to do so.

The Fraternity stands for four principles, Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverence and Uplift, and with these principles it strives to develop a friendly spirit which will radiate not only to the members but throughout the whole university.

Since its organization the Omega Psi Phi has had remarkable success, in both university and private activities. The school term following its organization brought a fraternity house which served as nothing else perhaps, to bind the fellows together.

The present active enrollment of the Alpha Chapter is about forty, with five honorary members. On February 6, 1914, the Beta Chapter was established at Lincoln University which promises to rival the "Mother" Chapter in success.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority

THE ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY, the first Greek letter society for women in colleges distinctly our own, was organized under the direction of Miss Ethel T. Robinson, a member of the faculty in 1908. The members consisted of young women in the School of Liberal Arts from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. Miss Lucy D. Slowe was the first basileus of the Sorority. The intention of the early promoters of the Alpha Kappa Alpha was to create an organization among the young women of the School of Liberal Arts that would appeal to the highest and noblest aims in life.

The Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is based on scholarship and strong character. Only young women who have an average of seventy-five per cent and above for the first three college semesters are eligible for membership. The Sorority has established a scholarship prize of ten dollars, which is to be awarded annually to the young woman who has the highest average, not lower than "cum laude" grade for her four-year college course at Howard, leading either to the degree A. B. or B. S.

The honorary roll consists of Messrs. Kelly Miller, L. B. Moore, E. E. Just, Anna J. Cooper, Dr. Sara Brown, Misses Otelia Cromwell, Ethel T. Robinson, and Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago.

LAWN TENNIS

Under the present managership of R. McCants Andrews, tennis activities have been greatly encouraged and directed. The first annual Inter-Departmental Tennis Tournament was held with great success and interest from May 13 to 19.

The assistant managers, E. B. Stone, C. W. Thompson and J. P. Sampson, have given hearty support to the management in coaching new players, caring for equipment and promoting the sport in every way. The Athletic Council has given particular attention to tennis because of its benefits in reaching a larger number of students than can be included in any other athletic activity.

Some of the members of the Tennis Club are Arthur Tunnell, Hermon Moore, W. T. Grinnage, Rowland Milburn, J. S. Hughson, H. I. Wilson, Price Cobbs, F. N. Perkins, M. B. McAden, Lloyd Bagley, N. O. Goodloe, Frank Valentine, A. S. Lafayette, C. A. Parks, J. A. Franklin, C. V. Hendley and a large numbers of others from all the departments of the University.

The Girls' Athletic Association, Miss Madree Penn, president, has been very active in fostering this sport in Miner Hall. Courts are reserved especially for the young ladies and many of them are becoming very proficient players. Among the mang good players are Misses Cornella Lampton, M. E. Jackson, A. T. Sandors, Lillian Shaw, Elizabeth Coffey, Eulalia Lane, Madge Brown, Esther Shackelford, Norvell Major, Louise Thompson, Hermoine Smith, Pearl Adams, Margaret Bugg, Estelle Brooks.

PERSONALS

AN ODE TO LORENZO.

"He is my ideal and I'm his idol," said Geneva.
"And your love affair?" asked Grace.
"Is an idyl," replied Geneva.
"And your fiancée?" asked Grace.
"He's idle according to mamma," said Geneva.

POOR ENGINEERING.

To learn the tango Bellinger had an itch,
But all his labored efforts were in vain;
His clumsy hands misplaced the lady's switch,
His awkward feet completely wrecked her train!

UP-TO-DATE DENTISTRY.

"Say Cabell," said Henry, "I have thought up a scheme to get rich in a hurry when I finish Dentistry." "How's that?" asked Cabell. "You beat a big drum while I pull out the teeth." "Don't get you," said Cabell, "what's that for?" "Why in case one patient howls too loud the others won't hear it."

APPLIED QUOTATIONS

"Oh, God! what emotions the speaker awoke;
A mortal he seemed, yet a diety spoke."
What luck for Dan Webster, and Douglass and Clay

IN MEMORIAM

To the memory of our beloved classmate,
E. L. McELROY,
drowned, June, 1911.

"To live in hearts we leave behind,
Is not to die."

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

THE Class of 1914 takes this opportunity of expressing its profound appreciation to those who have generously given assistance in the preparation of this work. Especially does the Class owe much to the experience and kind interest of Prof. E. E. Just who has been the chief adviser; to Dean Kelly Miller who has been a source of much information; to President Stephen M. Newman who has offered many helpful suggestions; to all the professors who have contributed in any way; to Prof. J. M. Gregory, Mr. Jas. A. Wright, and Mr. W. E. Robinson, members of the alumni, who have assisted financially; and the Crisis Publishing Company which has tendered its good offices to the Class in the publication of the Annual. To all those who have been mentioned, and to many other friends, the Class of 1914 here expresses its deep sense of gratitude.
